Breathe Easy in Challenging Times

When faced with challenges that threaten our health we naturally look to strive to put into place safety measures that eliminate or reduce that health risk.

The current pandemic is one of those health challenges that may continue to present itself now and into the future. A particular difficulty that we all face is how to control the quality of the air we breathe. Now, it is not clear if all microbial challenges are air borne, but those that are can be effectively removed by the AirStrike 3 series of air purification systems.

AirStrike 3 is the only system that offers 3 modes of microbe removal thereby increasing the kill rate of each virus or bacteria. Not only is the system highly effective but is also non obtrusive with low running noise and a choice of front cover graphics to help blend in with your décor.
